

In the demonstration capacitor, the amount of charge Q is fixed. If a piece of Plexiglas (a good insulator) is inserted between the plates, what happens to the potential difference between the plates?

- 1). The measured voltage increases.
- 2). The measured voltage stays the same.
- 3). The measured voltage decreases.